Re: Howarth v. Hero Build Solutions LLC
Our File No.: 00338-0037

Dear Mr. Beyrami,

We are a law firm making a claim on behalf of our client. We know that this is reaching you during a difficult and trying time and that you may have more pressing concerns. We appreciate that responding to this letter may not be your priority. However, we must receive a response from you so that we know that you are taking this matter seriously, even if you need more time to hire a lawyer or report this claim to your insurance carrier. If we hear from you then we can work with you to understand your position and resolve our client's claim. Please respond to us.

We write on behalf of our client Morgan Howarth, a photographer, for purposes of resolving a case of copyright infringement against you by our client. This demand is privileged from disclosure pursuant to FRE Rule 408.

Please provide this letter to your general liability insurance carriers or other providers of insurance that may cover this claim.

Morgan Howarth ("Howarth")

Our client is an experienced professional photographer who makes a living from photography. Based in the Washington D.C. area, Howarth has been a photographer for over 25 years and focuses on interior and architecture work. His rich and illustrative style brings architecture to life by combining a multitude of separately lit images into one perfect shot. Morgan has worked as a photographer for a multitude of national clients including Timex, Sears Catalog, The Lenox Hotel, Cole Haan Shoes, GH Bass Shoes, Timberland Shoe, CBS, and Home & Design Magazine, and has been exposed to many beautiful people and places throughout his career. However, he still considers the best part of any assignment to be the client's final "Wow!"

Howarth uses a combination of tungsten, daylight, and strobe light to create the best possible natural looking light to suit the needs of each room or scene. This process takes several different exposures and lighting set-ups per image which are then combined into one Hi-Res image.

Howarth retains all copyrights to his photographs. Howarth licenses his copyrighted Works, such as the ones in this case, for commercial use.

In 2014, Howarth created the images, hereinafter referred to as the "Works."

Howarth registered the Works with the Register of Copyrights on August 29, 2014 and January 26, 2016 and was assigned the registration numbers VA 1-958-957 and VA 2-013-957, respectively, copies of which are enclosed.

Infringement by Hero Build Solutions LLC ("HBS")

The infringement at issue was identified on March 9, 2020. We have enclosed contemporaneous evidence of the infringement by HBS.

You have employed our client's Works in at least the manner indicated in the evidence attached. Your unauthorized use commenced on at least the date indicated above. You are fully aware that the Works you used are our client's Works. No one from your company ever sought a license from our client to use the Works for any purpose.

You have copied, displayed and distributed our client's Works without permission, license or consent. The use of a creator's photographic image without written consent or license violates the United States Code, Title 17, and The Copyright Act. The Copyright Act provides for entry of an injunction directing removal of the offending materials pending litigation. This letter shall serve as formal notice that you immediately cease and desist all unauthorized uses of our client's Works. Any such further uses shall be at your peril.

If you possess a contract, license, agreement or writing on which you will rely for authorization of your use of our client's Works, please provide us with this evidence so we may avoid further controversy or litigation. Otherwise, we will be forced to assume that your use violated the law.

Damages

Copyright law provides several different elements of compensation to Howarth when a work is infringed or altered. Section 504 permits Howarth to recover actual damages plus "any additional profits of the infringer that are attributable to the infringement and are not taken into account in computing the actual damages," or statutory damages of up to $150,000 per work infringed if the registration predated the infringement. Howarth can present both damages theories to the jury and select the higher award any time prior to entry of judgment.

Academic studies have demonstrated that the use of good quality photographs more effectively market and advertise products and drive sales. Howarth's photographs are of the highest quality. Howarth's photographs are also scarce since he is one of the only sources of such quality photographs.

Howarth's damages are not limited to what he would have agreed to license the Works for prior to the infringement. Rather, Howarth's actual damages will be measured by the fair market value of the photograph considering HBS's use to sell and promote its business. Howarth's actual damages must be measured in light of HBS's use of Howarth's high quality and unique Works.

This is consistent with federal courts' approach to broadly construing the term "actual damages" to favor victims of infringement. See, e.g., Davis v. Gap, Inc., 246 F.3d 152, 164 (2d Cir. 2001). The fair market value approach for calculating damages is an accepted approach to valuing the defendants' uses of photographs. See Leonard v. Stemtech Int'l, Inc., Nos. 15-3198, 15-3247, 2016 U.S. App. LEXIS 15565 (3d Cir. Aug. 24, 2016). In addition, Howarth can offer evidence of the actual cost to take the photograph infringed on a time and materials basis.

Section 504 of the Copyright Act permits Howarth to recover actual damages plus "any additional profits of the infringer that are attributable to the infringement and are not taken into account in computing the actual damages." Therefore, Howarth will also be entitled to HBS's profits from the infringement, based upon the revenue HBS earned in connection with the use of Howarth's Works.

Alternatively, Howarth could seek statutory damages for infringement in an amount of up to $30,000 per work infringed if the registration predated the infringement. There is also the possibility that a judge or jury could determine that HBS's infringement was willful. If HBS's infringement was shown to be willful, the statutory damage award would increase to an amount up to $150,000 per work infringed.

Demand

In order to determine how to proceed, please provide us with information and documents showing:

1. the full nature and extent of the use of our client's Works, in any and all formats;
2. representative copies in any and all tangible form and media in which our client's Works were incorporated or employed; and
3. the source of the Works.

Upon receipt of this information we will consider and determine an appropriate amount required to be paid to our client in compensation.
